Key Features of an Italian Major

- Study and explore the language of art, of music, and of poetry.
- Enhance your opportunities for getting certain types of jobs, especially the ones with an international focus.
- Acquire the skills to work in or with Italy, a wealthy, modern industrialized nation now playing an active role in a new United Europe.
- Choose to focus in one of two Italian Language areas: Italian Language, Culture, and Literature, or Italian International Business.
- Combine this major with a second major such as international business, criminal justice, government and politics, journalism, sociology, or psychology.

Career Options and Salaries with an Italian Major

As the world gets “smaller,” the need for people with language skills grows. Many people who major or double-major in a second language find careers as interpreters, translators or educators specializing in language. Interpreters and translators are needed in many different fields, including healthcare, law, tourism, international business, education, etc. Various branches of the Federal Government also employ those with language skills.

- Language specialists working for the Federal Government earned an average of $79,865 annual, as of May 2008.
- In May 2012, teachers at the elementary, middle, and secondary levels earned a median annual income of $53,090 - $55,050.
- In May 2012, salaried interpreters and translators had a median salary of $45,430.
- In May 2012, postsecondary foreign language and literature teachers earned a mean annual wage of $68,970.

Additional information on salaries and careers can be found through the University Career Center & The President’s Promise: Languages or Languages 2
Advising

If you are considering a major in Italian, you can easily meet with the advisor in the Department of Italian to answer any questions you may have.

- Dr. Guiseppe Falvo is the Advisor for both the Italian and the Romance Languages Majors.

Declaring an Italian Major

- Italian is not a Limited Enrollment Program (LEP). If you have decided to major in this field, you can declare immediately!

When you declare your major in Italian, you are also declaring that you will be a student in the College of Arts and Humanities (ARHU), which houses the Department of Italian and French. There are two levels in your process of declaring and later advising: the department (Italian and French) and the College (Arts and Humanities). The College will advise you regarding your CORE or GenEd requirements and the Department will advise you regarding your major requirements.

Before declaring an Italian major, you should familiarize yourself with the requirements and the focus areas within the major for undergraduates. You may do this by browsing the departmental website (http://sllc.umd.edu/italian/undergraduate). Once you have decided that an Italian major is right for you, take the following steps:

1) Meet with the Undergraduate Advisor (Guiseppe Falvo). You may set up an appointment by calling the number listed above. During this meeting, you will create a 4-Year Plan and an Italian Advising Worksheet.

2) Students must complete the ARHU Foreign Language Placement Test (FLPT must be taken in a proctored environment if students are seeking exemption from The Global Engagement Requirement). Please note that students’ majors will not be changed until they have an FLPT score on file or have satisfied prerequisites via AP credit or earned college credit.

3) You will then submit a “College of Arts & Humanities Change of Major Form.” This is presented to the ARHU Office of Student Affairs, along with your 4-Year Plan, in 1120 Francis Scott Key Hall (301-405-2108). You will either meet with an advisor then or make an appointment for a later meeting. Enrollment in the major is not complete until an ARHU advisor has signed the Four-Year Plan worksheet.

4) As a new major, you will then be assigned to a department advisor, with whom you will need to meet at least once per semester prior to registration.

Q & A

Is there a Minor in Italian?
Yes. The minor in “Italian Language and Culture” is an official recognition that a student has reached a certain level of proficiency in the target language. The minor will serve as a validation to potential employers of the student’s proficiency in Italian.
For more information, please see the website: http://sllc.umd.edu/italian/undergraduate/minor
Additional questions can be answered by the Italian and Romance Languages Advisor. Stefania Amodeo is the advisor for Italian and Romance Language minors; her email address is zena@umd.edu.

Is it possible to double major in Italian?
Yes. Here is what the French and Italian Department explains:
“A student may wish to fulfill the major requirements in two chosen fields. The courses of the other Major will fulfill the French Supporting Courses requirements. One year before graduation, the student applying for double major must fill out a special form declaring his or her intention, recorded by the Arts and Humanities Student Affairs Office, and approved and signed by his or her advisors from both Major departments.”

What if I am interested in specializing in more than one romance language? Is there a way to do this besides doing a double major?
Yes. Please see information on the “Romance Languages Program,” which is offered jointly by the Department of French and Italian and the Department of Spanish and Portuguese:
http://sllc.umd.edu/roml

What if I want to study abroad?
Through the University System of Maryland (USM), the Italian Program offers students the opportunity to study in Italy at the American University of Rome (AUR). Courses taken through the University of Maryland Study Abroad Program may be applied toward the major in consultation with the Italian Advisor. For further information and application contact the Campus Study Abroad Office:
